Projects

Real-Time Voting System with RSA Encryption in C++

Jan 2022–March 2022

- Our real-time voting system, implemented in C++, utilizes RSA encryption for ensuring robust security, preventing unauthorized access, and guaranteeing tamper-proof ballot casting and counting. Compared to conventional voting methods, RSA encryption offers superior protection, bolstering the integrity and credibility of the electoral process.

College Placement Cell

November 2022-Jan 2023

- Our innovative engineering college placement cell, developed using Android Studio and Firebase database in Java, facilitates seamless engagement between colleges, students, and companies. This real-time platform streamlines the placement process, making it more efficient and convenient for all stakeholders involved, ultimately fostering better connections and opportunities for aspiring students.

Library Management System

March 2023-April 2023

- Our library management system, built with Flutter and MongoDB, enables smooth administration and user interactions, offering a user-friendly interface, real-time book availability updates, and efficient resource management.
